AFFAIRS IN BROOKLYN.

ALL RESCUED ON FIREMEN'S LADDERS. The four-story brick building No. 108 Lawrence st., a stable, carpenter-shop and dwelling, took fire from some unknown cause at about 4:15 p. m. yesterday. Mr. Weidman lived on the top floor, and his family consisted of his mother, Mrs. Anne Weidman, seventyone years old, his wife, Barbara, forty-five years old, nd his twelve year-old daughter Anne. started in the first story and quickly ran up the stair-case and completely burned out the interior. The family were driven to the front windows, where they stood ready to jump. The firemen warned them to walt, but spread life nets in case they did jump through wait, but spread hie nets in case they did jump through excess of fear. District Engineer Samuel Duif and James Lawlor, a nreman, put up ladders to the fourth story and rescued them when the smoke had become almost unendurable even at the windows. They were brought down unharmed. In the stable two horses were burned to death. The damage is estimated at about $4,000.

HIS COURAGE FAILED AT A CRITICAL TIME. Thomas West, colored, who was convicted recently of murder in the second degree for the killing of that were on the platforms occupied by Professor A. E. Policeman John J. Clancy, of the Penta Presence, by fracturing his skull with a baseball bat, on the night of August 2, was taken before Judge Moore, in the Court of Sessions, yesterday for sentence. West is a small man and slim. He was put into a van with the Board of Education, disclaimed any knowledge of the Board of Education, disclaimed any knowledge of the Board of Education, disclaimed any knowledge of to the courthouse and handcuffs were put on his wrists by the board. On Thursday night the board held anto the courthouse and handcuffs were put on his wrists after the usual custom. During the ride he managed to slip the handcuffs off. The manacles were again put on at the courthouse and he were them until he was called up for sentence, instead of being freed as soon as he was safely in the courchouse. When the handcuffs were replaced, West remarked: "I imply that the correct pringsten at a cost the bandcuffs were replaced, West remarked: "I imply that the correct pringsten at a cost the best chance I shall ever have." It might have been possible for him white in the itreet to break through the ring of other prisoners and make his rison a committee to make the inquiry. to slip the handculls off. The manages were again put on at the courthouse and he wore them until he was called up for sentence, instead of being freed as soon as he was safely in the courthouse. When the handculfs were replaced, West remarked: "I intended to break away, but I'm a fool, and have lost the Dest chance I shall ever have." It might have been possible for him whire in the itreet to break through the ring of other prisoners and make his through the ring of other prisoners and make his rough the ring of other prisoners and make his cape. He was sentenced to Sing Sing Prison for life.

TO OPEN A REFORMED EPISCOPAL CHURCH.

Dedicatory exercises will be held to-morrow in the new building of the Reformed Episcopal Church of the Reconciliation, at Nostrand and Jefferson aves. This is a handsome buff brick Gothic structure, of moderate size, for the only congregation of the denomination in the city, save one in Greenpoint. It was organized fourteen years ago, and worshipped for a time in the old South Presbyterian Church in Clinton-st., and after ward in Irving Hall, at Gates-ave, and Irving Place. The present site was bought about three years ago been about $50,000. The new church is two-stories been about $50,000. The new church is two stories in height, and contains an ample Sunday-school hall on the first floor and a fine auditorium above. The latter has a Gothic arched ceiling, and is lighted by stained glass windows. The chancel and pulpit furniture are quartered oak and the pews are ash. The room will seat about 500 persons. At the dedicatory services, to-morrow, Bishop W. R. Nicholson will preach in the morning and the Rev. Dr. H. G. Hoffman in the evening.

MEMBERS' WIVES ARE NOT SHUT OUT.

The Midwood Club, of Flatbush, has elected these officers and directors; H. Wood Sullivan, president;

The Committee on Stock List of the Stock Exchange held a meeting yesterday to hear further arguments on the question of listing the collateral trust 5 per cent bonds of the Missouri Pacific. Jay Gould was present and urged the case of the company as its presithe committee because the engraving was said to fall below the standard required by the Stock Exchange. Mr. Good's pice is that it is unjust to the holders of the Londs to refuse them a market at the Exchange and that the bonds have been so well distributed that it is practically impossible to have them re-engraved. The question will be decided at the meeting of the Governing Committee next Wednesday, and it is believed that the decision will be favorable to the Missouri Facilie. CLIFTON RACETRACK MANAGERS ARRAIGNED. The long-expected arraignment of the Clifton race track managers took place yesterday in the Passaic sociation, and chief owner of the track; John J. Engman, president of the Passaic County Agricultural Association, and chief owner of the track; John J. Engement charging them with keeping a disorderly house. The indictment is against the five men individually, and not as an association, and the reason of this is supposed to be that the Grand Jury thought somebody supposed to be that the Grand Jury thought somebody ought to be sent to prison for the deings at Cliffon, and an association can't be sent to prison. The quintette all pleaded "not guilty" and gave ball in the collective sum of $5,000 to appear for trial next Wednesday. Their bondsmen are ex-Alderman John Murtagh and Jacob Haeberle, retired liquor sellers; A. L. Schwarz, whelesale liquor-dealer, and James A. Graham, brewer. None of the indicted bookmakers were arraigned.

THE CLOSING ASSEMBLY OF THE SEASON. The closing Orange assembly of the season was given last evening in Upper Music Hall, and was the most successful and brilliant one of the series. The decorations were more than usually elaborate. The outer lobby was hung with crimson drapery and the gas jets were shaded in crimson, while masses of potted plants were grouped in the corners. The entrance to the dancing hall was through a rustle portice of trailing streamers of smilas. All the windows were hung with heavy curtains and lambre-quins of silk, in old red and blue.
